Corporate Prayer of Repentance

Heavenly Father, as Your Holy Spirit searches our hearts and as You assess our lives, we once again acknowledge that our sins are too heavy to carry, too real to hide, and too deep to undo.

Forgive what our lips tremble to confess, what our hearts can no longer bear, and set us free from a past we cannot change.

In Your love, grace, and eternal purpose, bring good out of the evil done to us and the evil we have done to others.

Open to us a future of hope and newness of life, resulting in our being made increasingly more conformed to the person of our risen Lord and Savior, Your Son, Jesus Christ, Who commanded us to love one another as He has loved us. Amen."

Blogger Stacy Gleddiesmith notes that the Hebrew Scriptures contain many words that are frequently translated as WORSHIP. They carry the following connotations: bowing down, falling down, service, labor, making, inquiring, seeking, fear, awe, ministering, and supplicating.
